This website uses cookies

We use cookies to enable the function of the website, statistics and interest-based content. This data is only passed on pseudonymously. With your consent, these cookies are processed and used by third-party providers in the USA. There is currently not an adequate level of data protection in the USA, and it cannot be ruled out that State Security authorities will issue corresponding orders to third-party providers (e.g. Google and Meta Platforms, Inc.) in order to gain access to data for management and monitoring purposes. There are no effective legal remedies or legal protection options against this. In addition, there are no sufficient guarantees for the protection of personal data in the USA. We only forward your IP address (in abbreviated form, so that no clear assignment is possible) and technical details such as browser, Internet provider, device type and screen resolution to Google or Meta. You can find more about this and possible later deactivation at any time in our data protection declaration or cookie information.
